Student: That's a pretty inspirational cover.
Caldron: Huh?
Student: The possibilities in the picture are so many! It's really meaningful.
Caldron: Uh sure, uh thankyou.
Student: I mean the idea that we are pulled through a current like we're pulled through school, going from small bodies of water to bigger ones could create some pretty heavy analogies. Just think, it could even be funny — you could compare the faculty to a stagnant pool or something.
Caldron: Well, I really hadn't thought much about it; I had the picture and it was kind of nice so . . . . .
Student: What a kick theme. You guys are really clever. Themes like that don't just come along every day.
Caldron: Yeah, they kind of float into your consciousness.
Student: Hey, that's pretty clever — "floating", like a river, get it?
Caldron: Yeah — I can see it! Our theme must be rivers! Wow! That's deep stuff.
Student: A deep river, huh?
Caldron: This is deteriorating into a pretty shallow conversation.
Student: Well, I just wanted to tell you I liked the cover . . .
Caldron: Why didn't I think of that? It's a good thing someone found a theme or else we'd all be up the creek without a paddle.

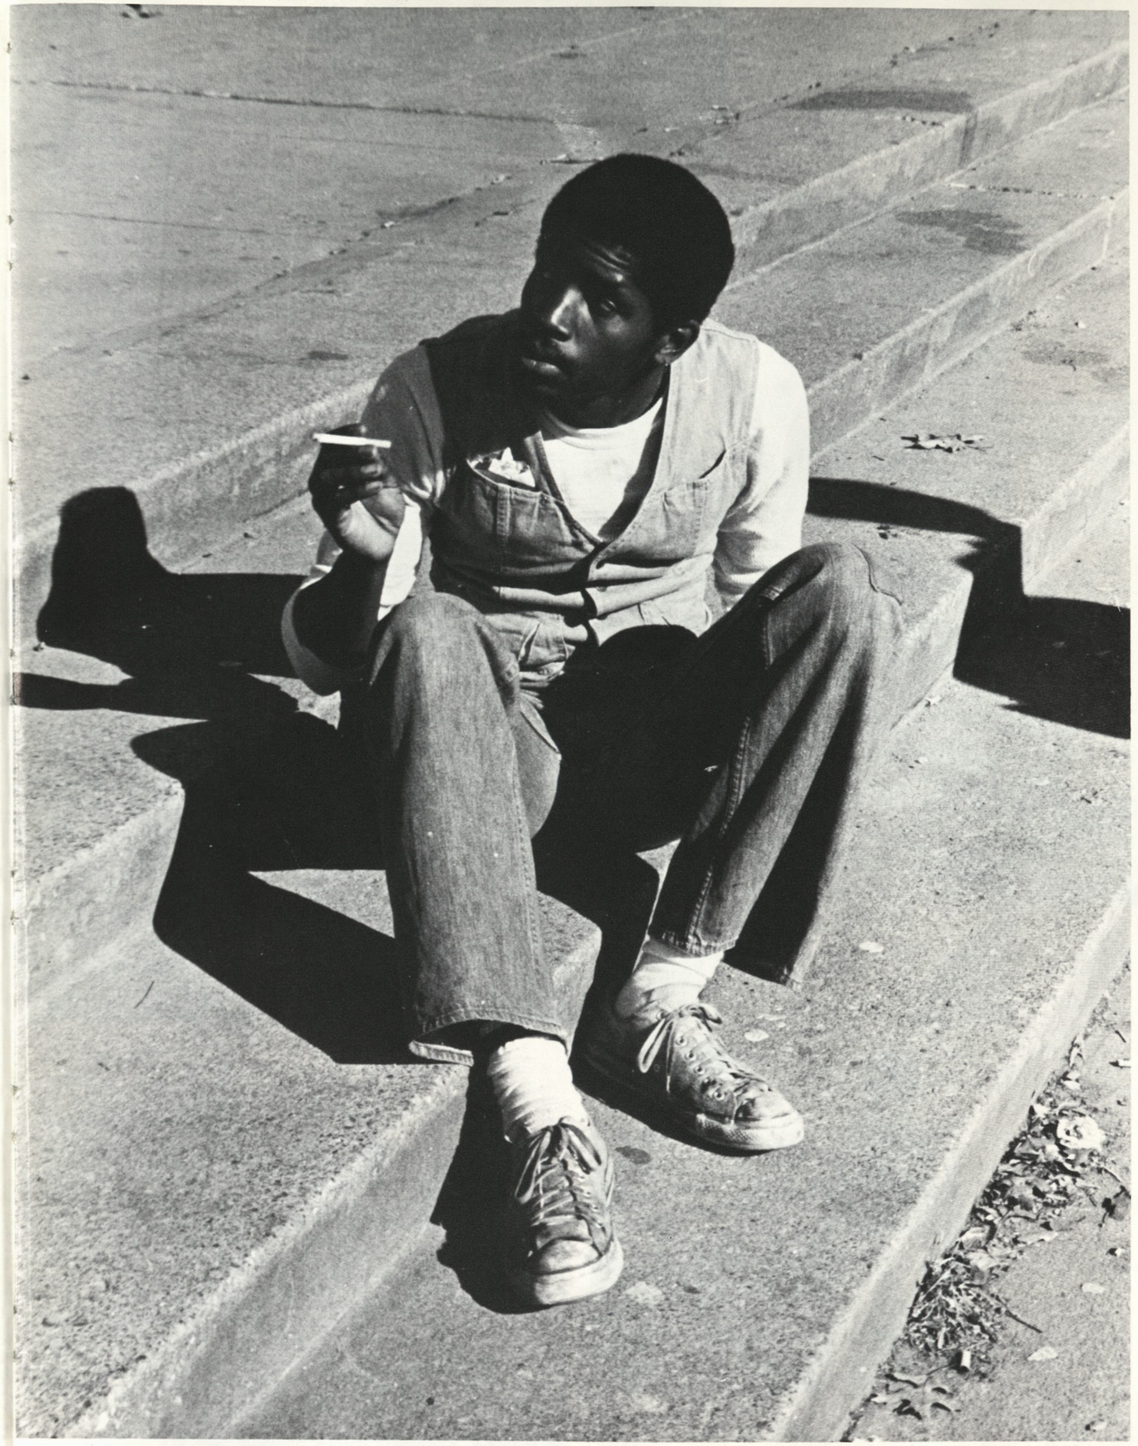

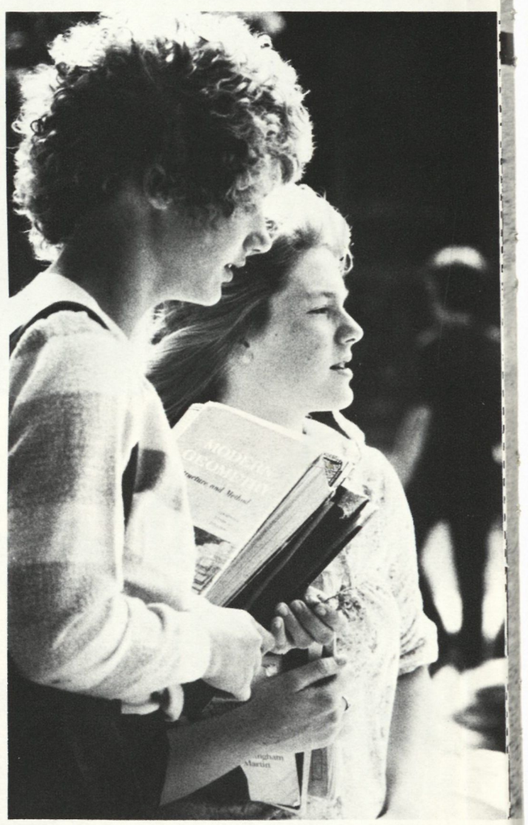

Mack

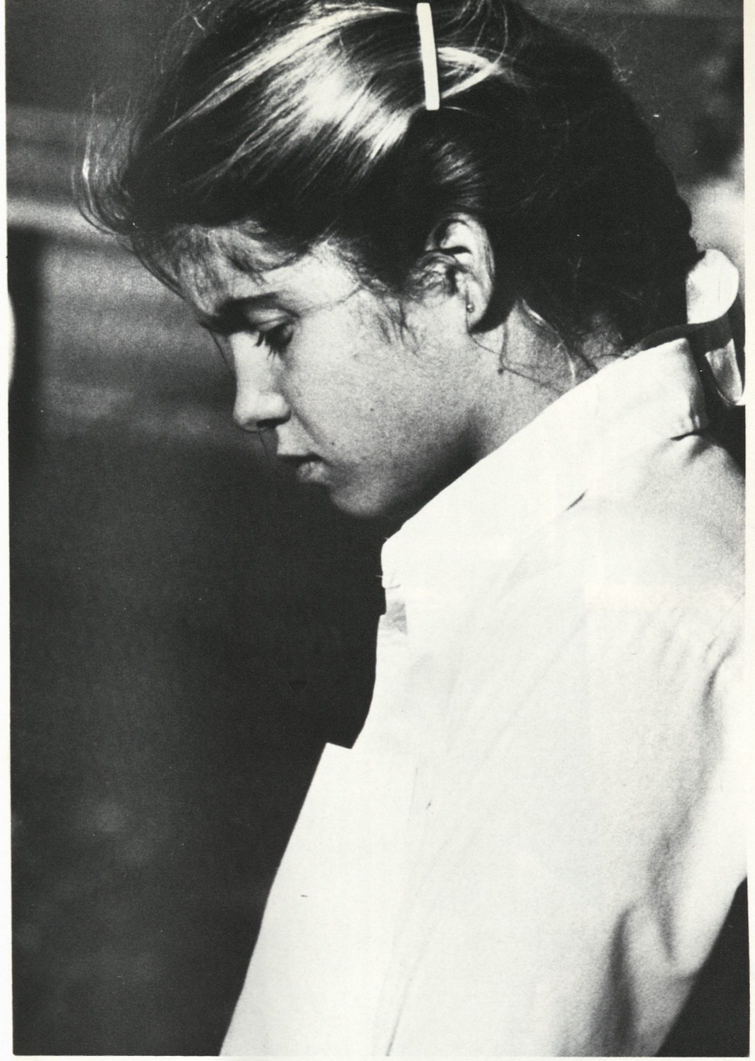

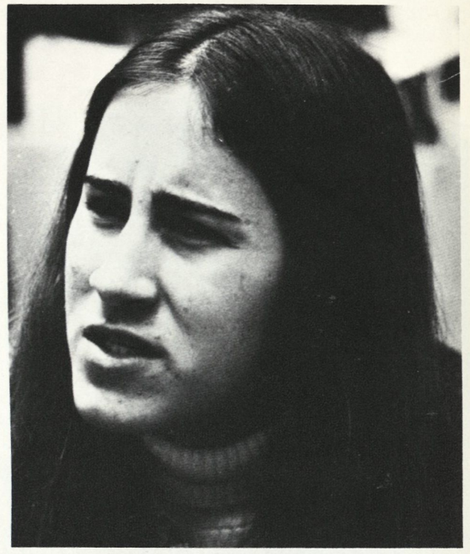

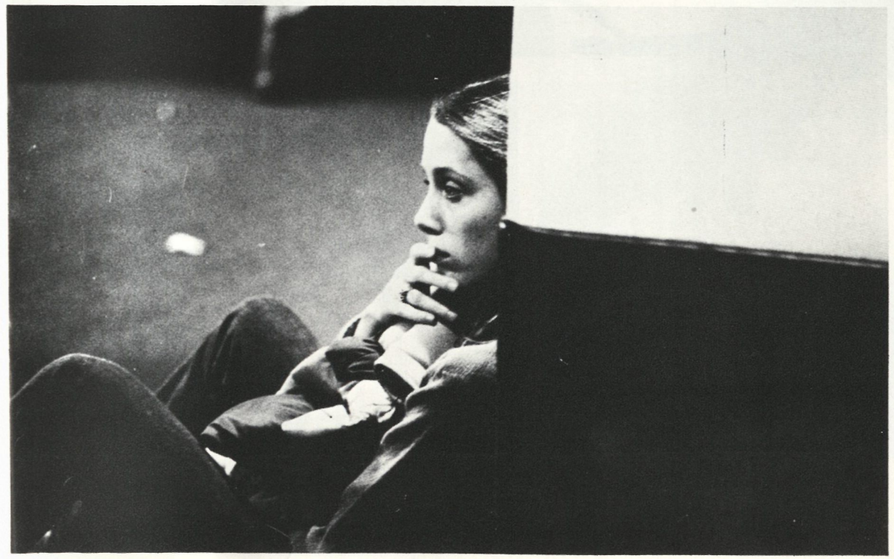

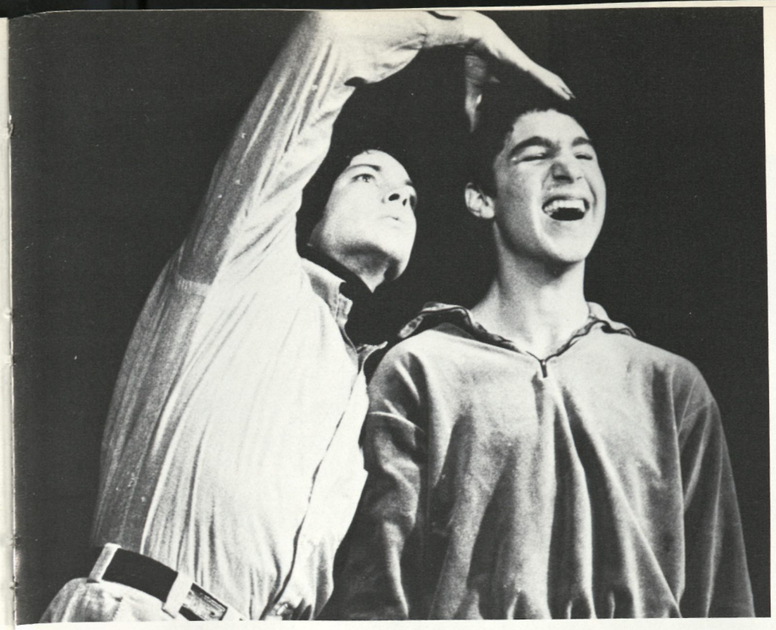

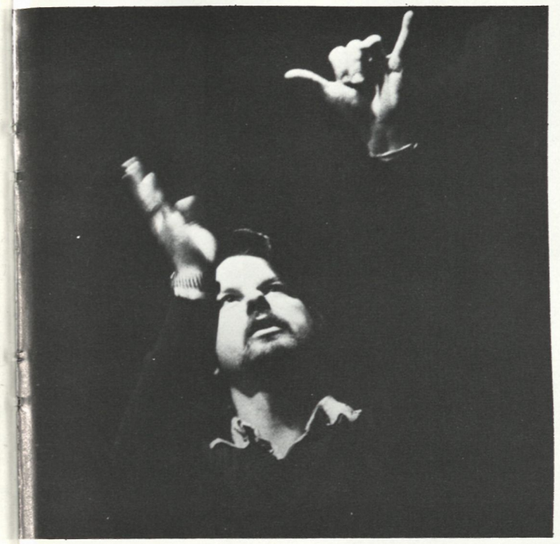

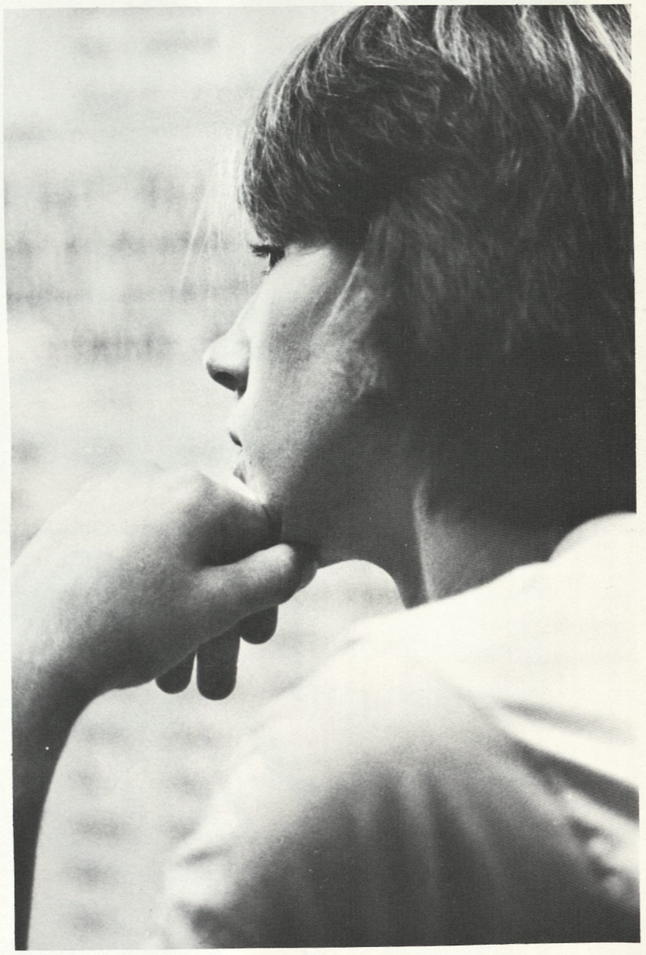

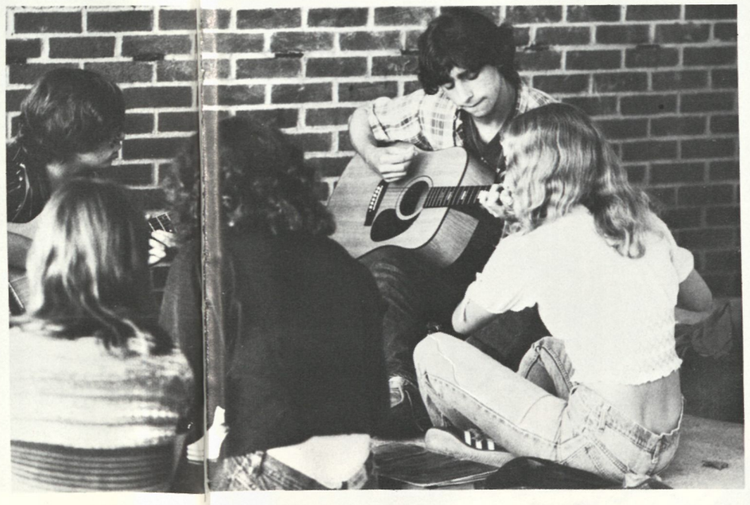

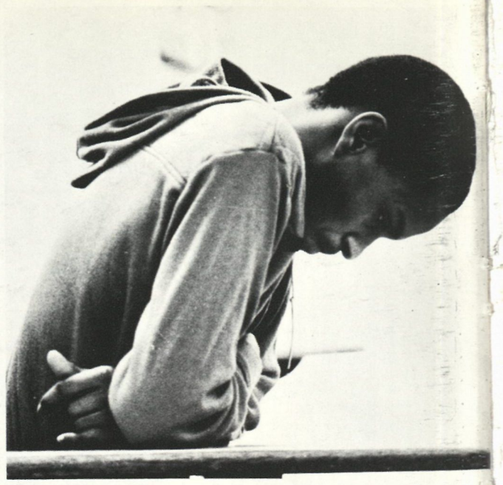

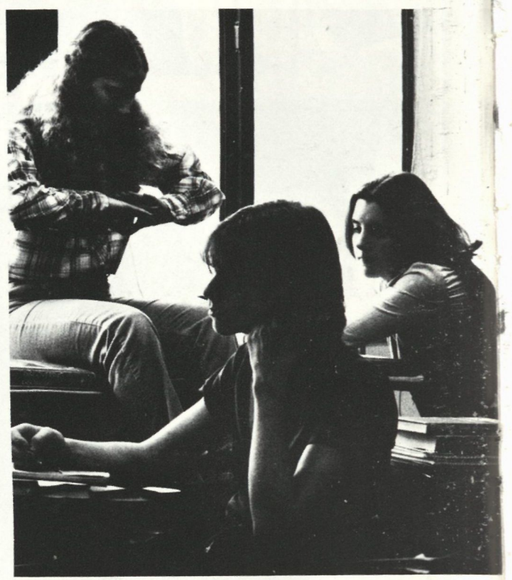

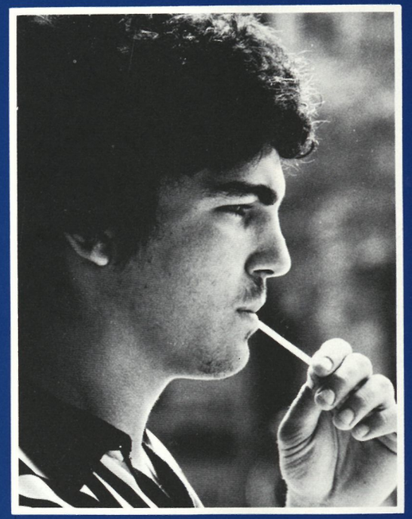

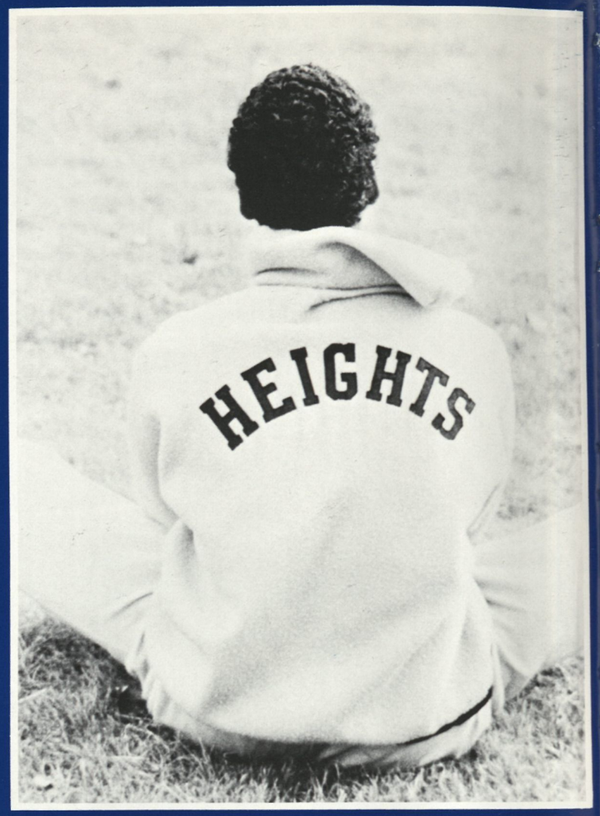

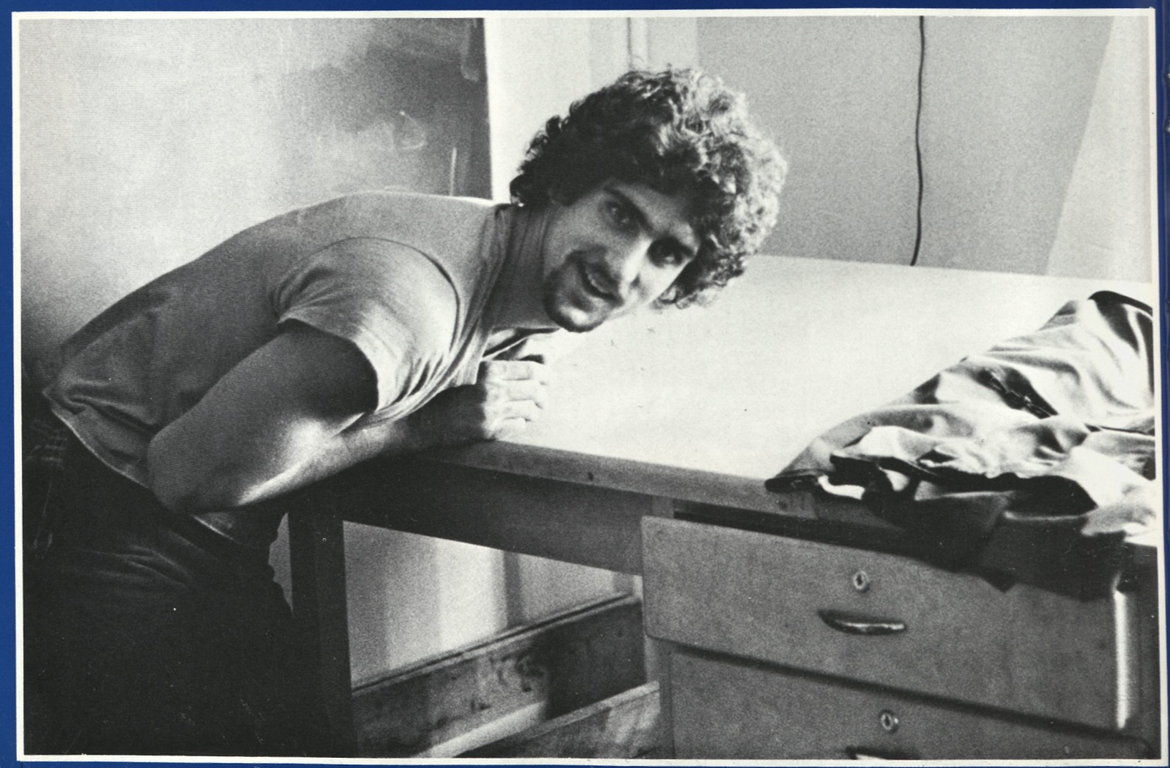

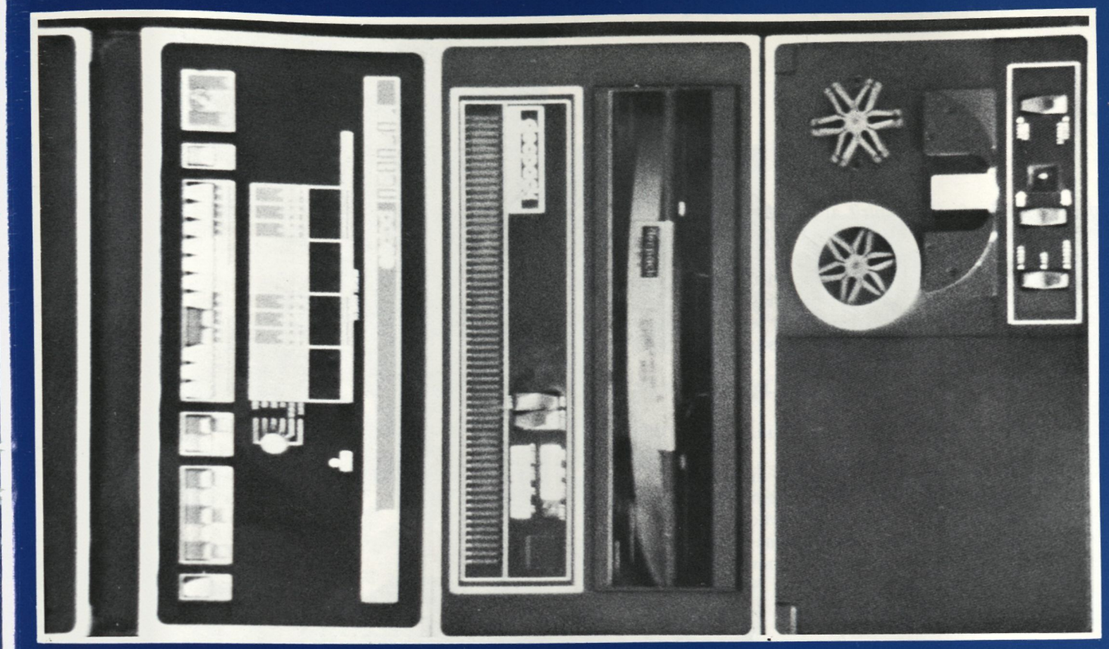

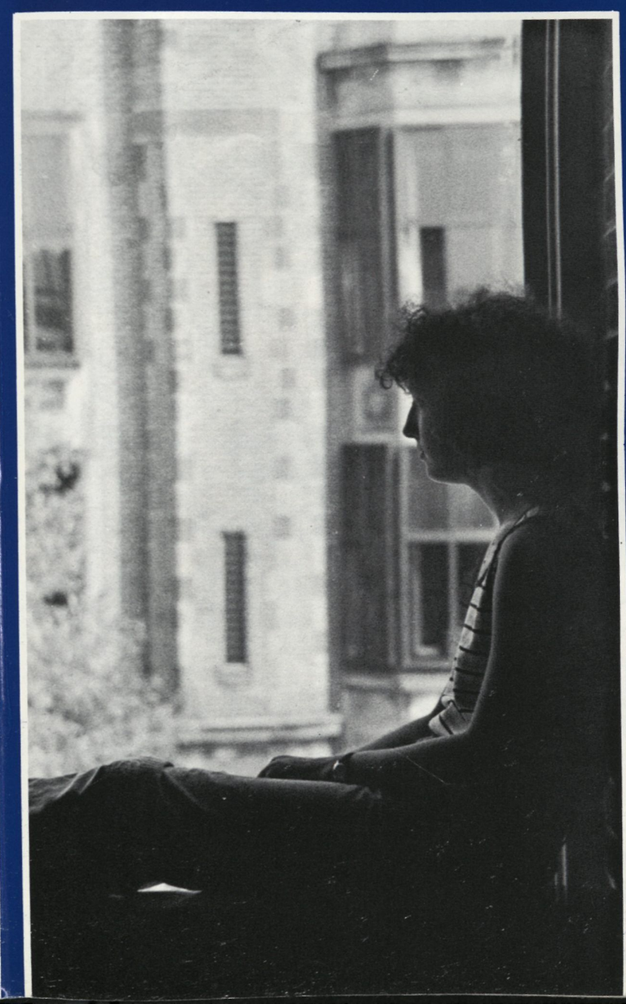

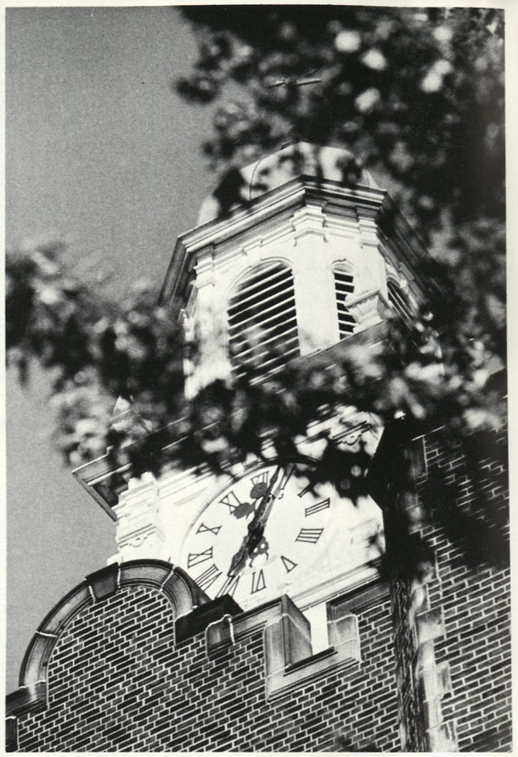

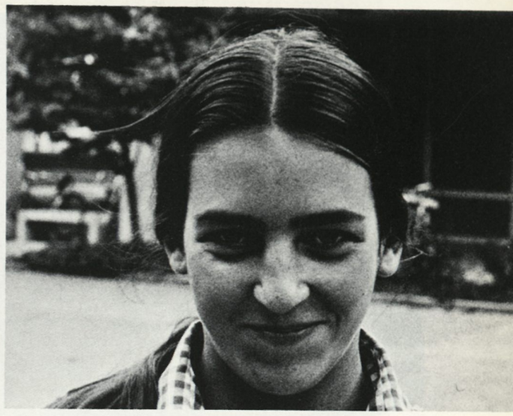

"I like it with more people."
"You have to find a place where you belong."
"It gives you a chance to meet many types of people."
"You don't know everyone and the teachers can't provide individual attention."
"There's not as much school unity, but there is less peer competition and pressure."
"You have to have some individuality."
"It's too crowded and confusing."
"It's not so big that you get lost."
"The administration doesn't think of you as a person--I have begun to feel like a number."
"There are lots of things going on."
"I love the size; size makes for diversity."
"As far as I'm concerned it's quality, not size, that matters."
"It's great. Sometimes I walk down the hall and see about a hundred people I've never seen before!"
"There are too many people. I have to fight the crowds just to get to class on time."
"There are parts of the building that I've never even heard of."
"I like the size because it offers a great number of feet to watch."
"The bigger the better!"

What do you think of school spirit at Heights?
"I don't think there is a lot of school spirit."
"Some people have a great deal."
"It's pretty good! There's a lot of school spirit in this school."
"People should support their school more than they have because their fellow students are working hard and not receiving support."
"I think it's lacking. The majority of the student body is dead. People think it's not cool to show spirit."
"There are so many that have school spirit, but they are outnumbered by the ones that don't."
"The school spirit? Yeah, I think it's haunting the fourth floor."
"New School has spirit."
"There's a general trend towards apathy in this school."
"It seems to me that as a school Heights doesn't have much spirit. Separate groups do, but not Heights as a whole."
"Lately there's been a lot. The turnout at Homecoming was good."
"Even though we're losing we still cheer. We never give up hope."

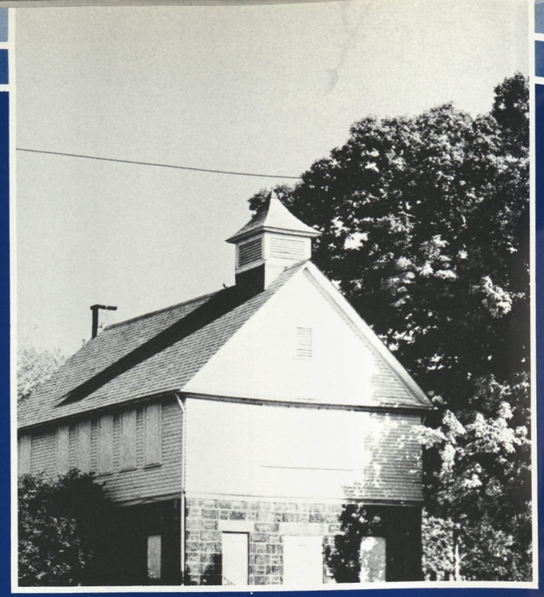

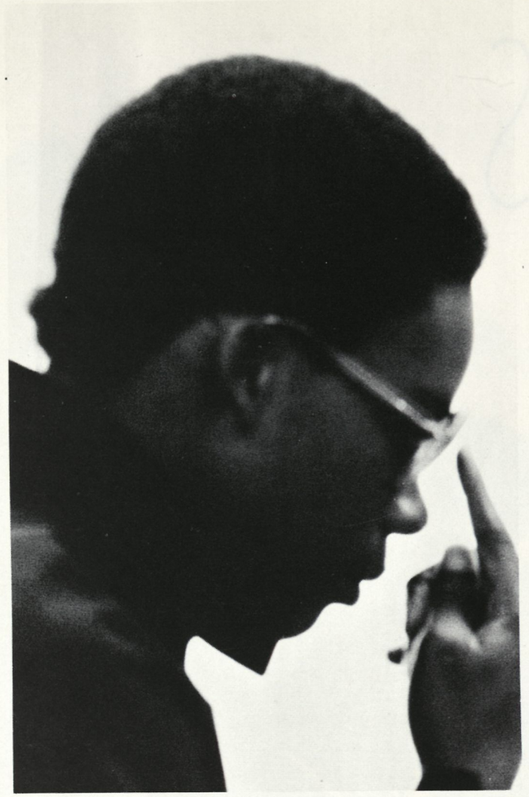

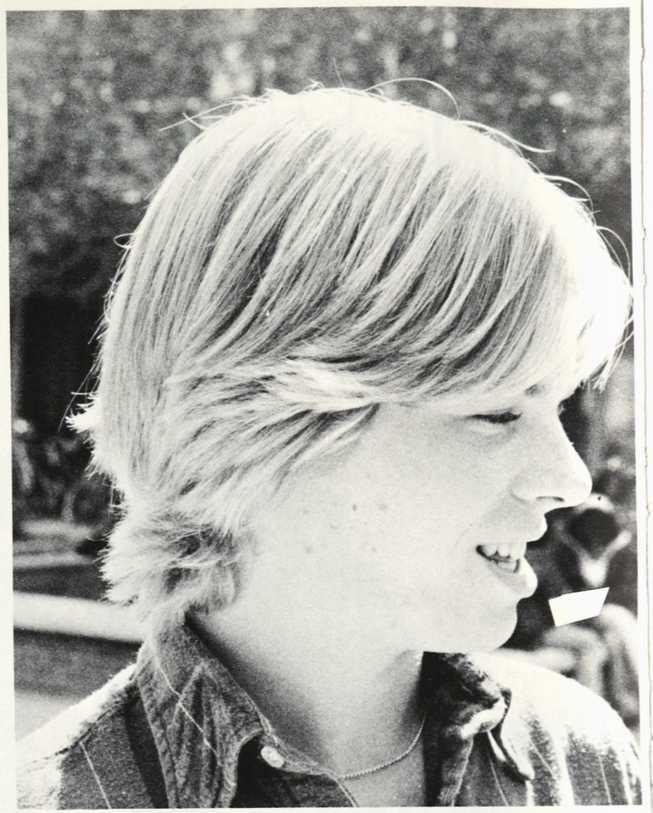

Cleveland Heights-University Heights is an area known for its variety. It is a mixture of people who have rejected the term "melting pot" in favor of cultural diversification. The many cultural groups represented in our community proudly display their differences and customs, expressing them in the many ethnic restaurants, places of worship, and schools. Visually it is an attractive area with interesting architecture and people. We are a complete community with our own industries, shopping centers, police and fire stations, libraries, parks, school system, and history. Cleveland Heights was incorporated in 1921, and University Heights became a city in 1940. Cleveland Heights High School is an integral part of CH-UH, and our school reflects its environment in the variety of students and in its excellence. These two cities, linked by their school and library system, have become a major part of the Cleveland metropolis.

UNDERCLASS

A crystal clear stream:
Smashing its way through gullies and boulders.
Splashing itself through people's lives;
The fisherman's dream, the swimmer's haven.
God's creation, a blue entity of solitude.
A free spirit, picking it's way through rocks and land;
Symbolic freedom, guided only by nature
Carrying with it seeds of wisdom,
Fast flowing inspiration, to hope, aspire.
But one cannot achieve the force
Of the water.
Or hold its beauty in one's hands.
A peaceful dove, a rushing torrent
An ageless sight of beauty
Timeless, changing, flowing
Aiming for bigger things.
But yet, amid the rushing,
Solitude reigns supreme.

The Unit A Class Council, advised by Mrs. Levy, spent the 1978-79 school year organizing for their upcoming years at Heights. The council, which opted not to elect officers, chose as their motto, "The Class of '81; The Class with class!"

UNIT B CLASS COUNCIL

UNIT B CLASS COUNCIL

After problems early in the year with the solidification of its officers, the Class Council successfully sponsored a December jazz concert and an all-school carnival. The group attempted to raise school spirit by selling pennants at football, basketball, and hockey games. The 1978-1979 class council left its biggest mark on the school by holding the first pickle sale in the history of Heights High. When asked, one council member commented, "It was a real gas!"

UNIT B CLASS COUNCIL OFFICERS

ACTIVITIES

King's Court: (L to R) Rick Hatton, Wally Malone, David Kolby, Tim Toll, Bill Menges, Evan Buller

King's Court: Harry Cashy

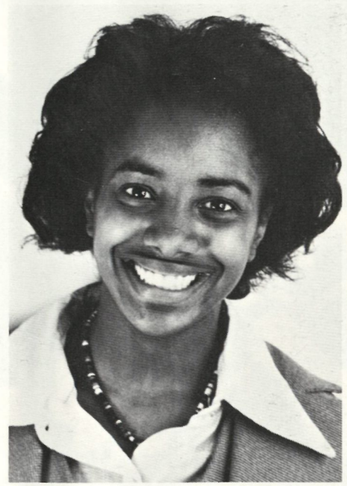

Homecoming King and Queen: Wally Malone and Gina Giovanetti.

This year's Homecoming, planned by Lisa Cowin and Julie Sweeney, was very successful. The October 21 game was preceded by the annual parade down Cedar Road, with Unit C's contribution winning the float contest. The fact that the football team lost to Shaker was a minor detail, which didn't stop the people who took part in the Homecoming festivities from enjoying it. Half-time activities included a reunion of the six remaining members of the 1928 Heights City Champion football team and the traditional crowning of the Homecoming Queen and King: Gina Giovanetti and Wally Malone. The after-game dance was also well attended, as the crowd of mostly seniors got down at Height's first disco homecoming, sponsored by Student Council.

Queen's Court: (Front) Lisa Jacobs, Sara Dicke, (Rear) Gina Giovanetti, Mindy Kline, Marla Sebransky.

Queen's Court: (Above) Patty Strong, (Below) Wendy Allen

INTERSESSION

Intersession is an annual program held to give Heights students experience in subjects different from those that they are usually exposed to. Members of the community get involved by leading classes in their special fields or interests.

Intersession was held on February 16. It was organized by Student Council under the leadership of Beth Finley. The activities included a snow sculpture contest, a speaker from the FBI, the traditional Roman Snack Bar, and live broadcasting all day by M105. In addition, Social Studies teacher Larry Keller played his guitar at an all-school assembly.

Gospel Choir is one of the many music organizations open to Heights students. The sixty member group, led by Mr. William Tarter and pianist Deane Brewer, celebrated their fifth anniversary this year. They sing gospels, hymns, and anthems and have performed at many area churches and Indian River—a prison for young offenders. Gospel Choir put on two successful concerts this year, one in January and one in the spring.

The Heights Singers, under the direction of Mr. William D. Thomas, enjoyed another year of musical excellence. The 180 member Girl's Glee Club and Men's Chorus demonstrated their versatility by performing two major concerts along with the musical "Oliver". "Oliver" was the group's major fundraiser in preparation for their spring tour to the Baltimore/Annapolis area. The musical, featuring Anita Hirsch, Bob Behrens, Evan Buller, Gina Giovanetti, and Neil Collie in lead roles, was described by many as "one of the most exciting productions ever at Heights High." Also, for the first time in several years, the Men's Chorus competed in district competition. They were the only all-male group present at the competition.

Drops of water in the river
We flow on,
Twisting and turning as the Days move on.
Swirling hazes,
Rapid rocky futures
And the promise of serenity
A clear blue pond
Collecting at the end of our days.
End of a stream
Of consciousness;
End of a stream that
A trickle started so long ago,
Widening and swirling,
Twisting and turning as the days went on.
Growing in size
Deepening in power
Gathering the legacy of the earth
As it sought its final destination
An ocean of thought
A river of meaning
A lifetime just begun
By those tiny droplets.

The Malevolent Society had difficulty getting organized due to the fact that the members refused to be seen with each other. The group had many activities, including an execution, an impeachment, an insultation, and the formation of a heckling squad. Said society president Greg Jouriles, "I'm not going to waste my time commenting on this."

The Centerfold Society had many interesting activities this year, most of which are unprintable in a high school yearbook. Among them was a very successful mixer with the "Light of the Moon" Society and the Toga Club. Photography and moviemaking were other popular activities that members were often asked to be involved in. Led by wild women Harriet Jakob and Patty Strong the group was an inspiration to many this year.

The Sax Society had a slow start in its first year. Interviews with a variety of musical and saxual magazines and a guest appearance with the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra were all scheduled, but later cancelled for various reasons. Encouraged by their fearless leaders, James W. Bane and Robert E. Bergantino, the Sax Society was voted by the highest authority (themselves) to be the best section in Symphonic Band. Open membership in the Society for those not in the domain of saxual ability or in the realm of good clean fun is being considered for next year.

The 1978-79 W.A.G. Society was made up of a select few of Height's more "elite" students. The group was known to give various students a peek at the infamous "little finger signal" whenever they pleased and often were observed telling each other "We Are Great!" Next year, the W.A.G.'s will search for the few remaining totally egotistal and vain superiors of the Heights student body to carry on their tradition of excellence.

The Society of Malicious Intellectuals was formed with the stated purpose of opposing the "sheep in wolf's clothing" who have dared to call themselves the Malevolent Society. These kind-hearted people with sunny dispositions are slurring the image of cruel people everywhere. The society intends to show these imposters what malevolence is.

AFS

Three of our five exchange students: Florian Prugger, Wisanu Petschingh, and Giampaolo Porta.

"I chose to go abroad because I was interested in living in another way, and to see if I could adapt myself to it. I like Heights High. I am in New School and I never would have had the opportunity to work like that in France. I used to be in a very structured school where I had no personal independence . . . where the relationships with the teachers were formal. But the level of education in France is much higher.

"The host family is very important. It is the base from which I can enjoy the life here. I didn't realize that in France. It seems obvious, but it is incredible that we can speak openly and say that we love our natural families.

"The AFS experience is meeting many people from all over the world with quite different cultures. There is no way to be closed-minded any more. It is a growing experience: you learn about yourself and gain a lot of self confidence."

Continuing in its tradition of excellence, the Drama Club presented two powerful plays, focusing its theme on families in crisis.

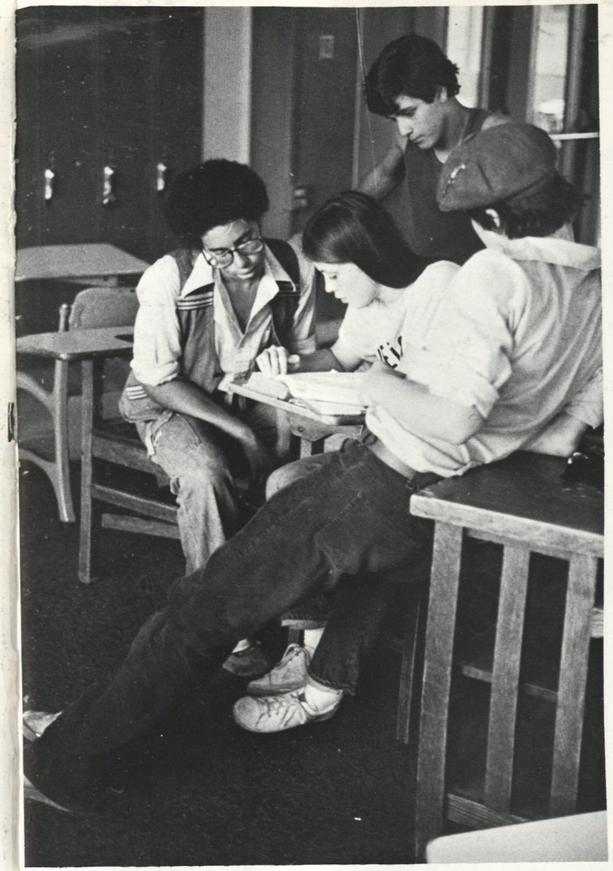

"The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the Moon Marigolds," a five-character play by Paul Zindel, was presented in the Fall. Alissa Tew, Stephanie Becker, Naomi Reshotko, Irene Glassman and Kate Culver all turned in intense performances.

The poignant, true story of Ann Frank and her family was told in the Spring production of, "The Diary of Ann Frank." The excellent cast was led by Stephanie Becker, Paul Lilley, Lisa Baer, Russell Fox, Jeff Lesser and Bo Taslitz.

Somewhere, tucked away in
The small crevice of someone's mind
There is a place for me
Where I will be safe and sound.
My niche; my role; my place.
There I shall rest, an end to
My journey; the river will
Empty and there I shall Rest.

FOOTBALL

With many returning starters, Coach Dave DiCarlo was looking forward to the 1978 varsity football season. Unfortunately, he never anticipated that 22 of his players would suffer injuries causing them to miss all or part of the season. Nevertheless, his squad was an exciting one that was seldom blown out by any opponent, and upset LEL runner-up Normandy in the season finale.

Defense was the team's strongpoint. Led by "All-Sun" linebacker Paul DeBaggis, All-LEL safety Ron Williams, and All-LEL defensive tackle Dave Nash, it held the opposition to under eleven points in five of ten games.

Offensive standouts included Jr. tailback Tim Starks, Sr. quarterback Ken Hughes, and Sr. end Rick Hatton. An improved offensive line helped Starks amass over 800 yards against defenses that were constantly keying on him. Hughes, though in only his first year as starting QB, was an invaluable weapon. He single-handedly won the Brush game, and was involved in over 75% of the Tigers' scoring.

With 18 lettermen and a fine JV returning, next year's team should be a good one.

Fullback Warren McGary scores the winning touchdown versus Normandy

The 1978 Junior Varsity gridders became the most successful JV squad of the decade. They earned a 7-2 record by featuring a stringent defense and a bevy of game-breaking running backs. If there was a "superstar", it was tailback Anthony Hood. A touchdown threat every time he carried the ball, Anthony's 220 yd. performance against Midpark is unparalleled in Heights' JV history. Other fine backs were HB Avery White, and FB Mark McMullen. As good as the offense was, the defense was just as good. Led by standouts Jeff Kennedy, Calvin Brown, and Harley Miller, it time and again shut down opposing offenses.

Did you know . . . ?
—The '78 golf team had no returning lettermen.
—There are no golf courses in Cleveland Heights.
—There is no JV golf team at Heights
These facts could explain why the golf team struggled to a disappointing 1-11 season.

CROSS COUNTRY

The 1978 girls' cross country team was a vast improvement over the 1977 runners. Coach Mann praised the girls' hard work that led to steady improvement throughout the season (only their second in existence). During meets they were led by Jessica Reid, a district qualifier. Since many of the runners were underclassmen, the future of the girls' cross country team looks promising.

The Heights High cheerleaders kicked off the year by sponsoring a pep rally on the second day of school. They continued to provide school spirit at all the Heights games and at other pep events. Liz Campbell, Heights High's "Golden Girl", provided all the twirling action. The Tigers earned their stripes with their inspiring acrobatics and gymnastics. Led this year by captain Cheryl Helden and advisor Carolyn George, the Heights cheerleaders definitely measured up to everybody's standards.

After a promising 6-0 L.E.L. start, the Tiger wrestling squad faltered to a 6-3 fourth place finish and an 8-5-1 overall mark. The late season slump could be attributed to the fact that the team had only four senior regulars and just one standout wrestler. Senior tri-captain Paul DeBaggis led the grapplers with an awesome 13-1 record. DeBaggis won the prestigious Brecksville tournament on his way to a second consecutive L.E.L. crown. Other fine performances included tri-captain Harry Cashy's 7-3 mark at 138 pounds, tri-captain Dave Nash with an 8-6 slate at 185, and junior 105 pounder Doug Cuthbert at 9-5.

SWIMMING

District 50 yd. freestyle champion Bruce Busbey.

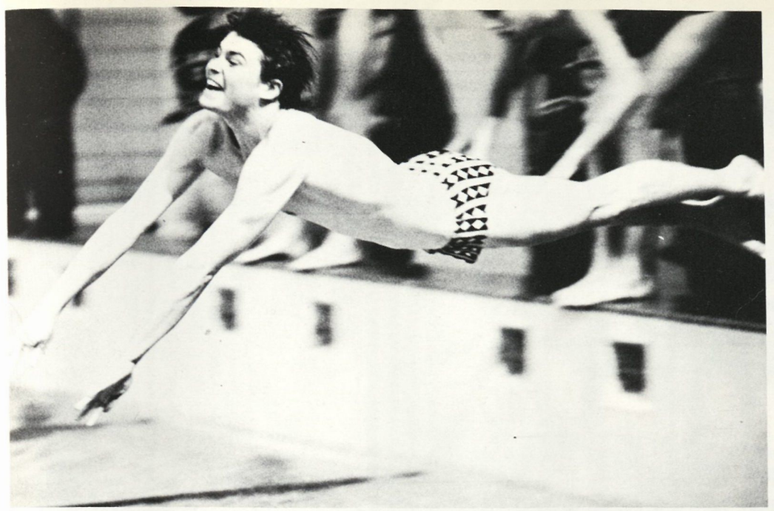

The 1978-79 Boys' Swim Team completed their season with an impressive 12-3 overall record and a 3-2 league mark that placed them third in the L.E.L. The talents of co-captains Bruce Busbey and Doug Horn, as well as those of Andy Goode and Adam Schoenfeld, were key factors in the successful season. Coach Ted Arnold also stated that Cliff Steinberg, Paul Niccole and Doug Donley provided the team with needed depth. In District competition, the team placed ninth and advanced Busbey in the 50 and 100 yd. freestyles and the 400 yd. free relay team of Horn, Goode, Busbey and Steinberg to state competition.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

Led by a tenacious defense and an overall abundance of team speed, the 1978-79 Women's basketball squad raced its way to a 2nd place league finish and a fine 12-5 overall record.

Senior co-captain Kathy Fort was a mainstay both on the boards and through the hoops. Kathy's 14.1 point and 9.8 rebound averages were both near the top of the team charts.

Junior forward-guard Bonnie Kane was the resident net burner. She led the team in scoring, with a 14.5 while finishing second only to Fort with 9 rebounds a game.

With 6 letterwomen and a strong JV returning, it seems like a dynasty may be looming in the future.

MEN'S BASKETBALL

For the 1978-79 Heights Basketball team the season started seven games too soon. After opening with a 1-6 mark, the cagers rallied in the second half of the season to obtain a fourth place finish in the LEL. In tournament play the Tigers continued this streak by beating arch rival and LEL champ Shaker Hts., and then edging JFK in a 44-42 thriller that brought home the sectional championship. The unexpected turnaround was due in part to the elimination of early attitude and confidence problems as well as to the improved play of senior center Gerry Vaughn. Vaughn scored 34 points against Valley Forge and scored 28 a week later in the sectional game against Shaker. The consistent board strength of senior Tim Toll and the excellent defensive play of Darryl Smith also contributed to the late season rejuvenation. Two victories over Shaker were obviously a high point of the season, but an unheralded victory was scored in the St. Joes game. All-American forward Clark Kellog was held to 14 points, his lowest all year, while fouling out in the third period. A strong JV, the late season turnaround and the presence of only five seniors on varsity suggests continued success next year.

ICE HOCKEY

The 1978-79 Cleveland Hts. Ice Hockey team was a youthful squad. Of 22 players, only five were seniors. Two of these seniors, Captain Bill Menges and Alternative Captain Gary Greuhl were key players. Bill controlled the offense, contributing 20 assists and Gary anchored the defense. In spite of what could be called a rebuilding year, the spirited skater compiled an impressive 13-3 league record. This was good enough for a second place slot in the standings. As Coach Bill Reed put it, "The season was full of surprises with lots of ups and downs." In light of the fact that the three leading scorers, Dave Wright, Marc Castro and Bill Beard (19, 12 and 10 goals respectively) were all juniors, next year should only consist of ups.

SWIM CADETS

Waterlogged but happy, the Swim Cadets put on a spectacular pageant on February 22, 23 and 24 called "Time Keeps on Slippin' . . ." Under the leadership of fearless president Marina "Amazon" Molinari, the Swim Cadets made the metamorphosis from beached whales to talented synchronized swimmers. Mrs. Amy Greenspan, this year's sponsor, was also an important asset to the club. However, the club's most important factor was the 23 cadets themselves and officers Cheryl Antolik, Diana Simmons, Jessica Dailey and Harriet Jakob.

We would like to stress that both parts of this form are completely optional.SELF-EVALUATION REPORT: Although we have tried to give you ample space to tell us about yourself in other parts of the application, it occurred to us that some people may also wish to answer questions similar to those we ask in our teacher and counselor reports. You may wish to complete all, part, or none of it. This does not have to accompany your application, but it should be submitted by January 1. UPDATE REPORT: If you wish to use the form as an Update, in the event that significant new information arises after submitting your Final Application, please do so ordinarily by February 1. If you send the Form as a Self-Evaluation Report and later want to send an Update Report, please use a regular 8 x 11 sheet of paper with your full name and school.

A. Self-Evaluation Report

C. EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITIES:

1. Please use the space below to discuss briefly the one or two extracurricular, work, or community activities that have meant the most to you during your secondary school years.

The one that sticks in my mind is when I saved the city from Luther's doom machine. I remember when the volcanoe erupted, and I dug a trench around metropolis to trap the lava. And then there wer e the quiet, ephemeral moments with Lois. Especially when she asked me what the red S meant. I showed her and she said, "but Superman, can you really do it?" I once volunteered at Metropolis General Hospital when the X-ray machine broke. I dsicovered three malignant tumors, two ulcers, and three free spirits. When the schools were closed due toexcessive snow, I used my free time to clear the streets and sidewalks. The next day at school I was egged by some of my friends.

2. Write a brief statement describing the one or two non-academic activities you would most like to pursue while at Harvard and Radcliffe.

Id like to save the world from evil. Also, do you have a Daily Planet in Cambridge? Id like to meet a girl named Lois...

D. ADDENDUM:

The space below may be used if you wish to make any additional comments. For example, if there are any special academic problems that you feel have not been adequately addressed in this application, please amplify.

xxLuther, Ill get you some day. Lois, I'll get you some night. All my friends on Krypton, I'll remember you always. And Krypto, would you please come home?????

E. APPLICATION ESSAY:

On this and the following page please write a brief essay of 200-500 words on any topic you wish. If you prefer (or in the event this space becomes smudged or unusable), feel free to complete the essay on an attached sheet of paper. The following are a few of the topics that have been used in past essays, but it is by no means an exhaustive list, and good essays can be written on any subject: unusual circumstances or background factors in your life; a scientific or engineering problem you have worked on or would like to solve; high or low spots or turning points in your life thus far; a dramatic, movie, or television production that has had a great impact on you; a particularly rewarding academic or other learning experience; the best or worst features of your secondary school; travel or living experiences in other countries; your home area as a place to grow up; a recent development in your school or community and your reaction to it; your family, friends or another person who has had a great effect on you; a significant action of yours and its consequences; or pose a question we should have asked on our application forms and then answer it.

Kent, Clark

To the Applicant: After you have completed the three lines below please read carefully the statement regarding the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, circle the response you wish to make, date it, and sign your name.

Name of Applicant Clark Kent (Last) (First) (Middle)

Home Address Krypton (Street Address) (City or Town) (State) (Zip Code)

Secondary School Cleveland Heights High School (Official Name) (City or Town) (State) (Zip Code)

What is the quality of the applicant's performance in extracurricular, community, or work activity? Does he or she have any unusual competence, talent, or capacity for leadership?

I have never seen anyone as gifted as Clark. He can leap tall buildings in a single bound, go faster than a speeding bullet and is more powerful than a locomotive. I think I can attest to his other powers. I've never seen anyone else personally direct the Cleveland terminal.

What are your impressions of the applicant's character, aims and values? How do fellow students, teachers, and you regard him or her as a person compared with contemporaries? Does the applicant have any special strengths, weaknesses, or problems of which we should be aware? What are the first few words which come to your mind to describe his or her personality?

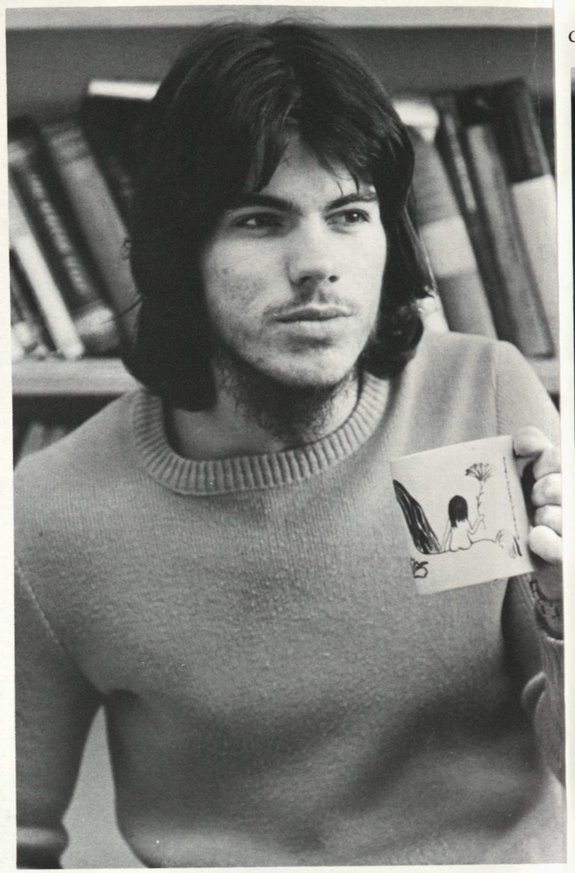

Clark has an iron character. He has a special ability to see things thatother students can't, and grasp hidden meanings. Sometimes I think he's mentally undressing people. xxxxxx He stands up like a pillar of steel when others are crumbling around him. However, Clark is not always appreciated for his upstanding moral characters. Sometimes the other students are jealous. Especially when he flies to school and other students have to take the bus. Clark has alwyas been known for his special strength. In fact he uses Mennen three times a day. I've never seen a student so obsessed with the battle between good and evil. After reading xxxxx Moby Dick, Clark swam the Pacific, personally throttling sperm whales.

Are there any special or unusual circumstances, background information, or other factors (positive or negative) which may be relevant to the applicant's performance in school or to the Admissions Committee's over-all consideration of his or her case?

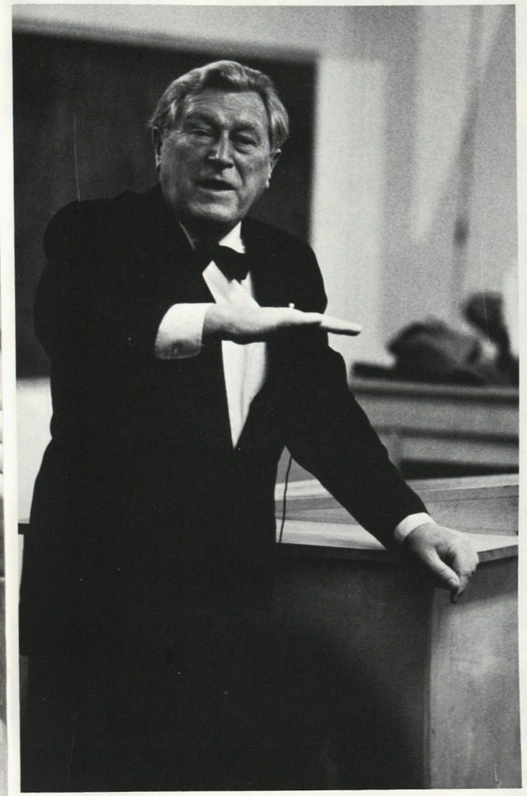

Clark just happens to be a native of the planet krypton. He also has a strange aversion to some precious substance known as kryptonite. If you have any of this material in Cambridge, Clark would appreciate if if you placed it in a lead box. He is also emotionally attached to his dog Krypto. Often he puts on a cape, perhaps to keep him warm during the cold winter months. Also, don't get him mad.

COL III provides approximately 150 students per year with an alternative comprehensive educational program. The program is offered to eleventh grade students. Four certified teachers, one coordinator-counselor, and two interns comprise the staff. The program is highly structured, while at the same time allowing for the development of strong positive relationships between staff and students. Some COL III students say:

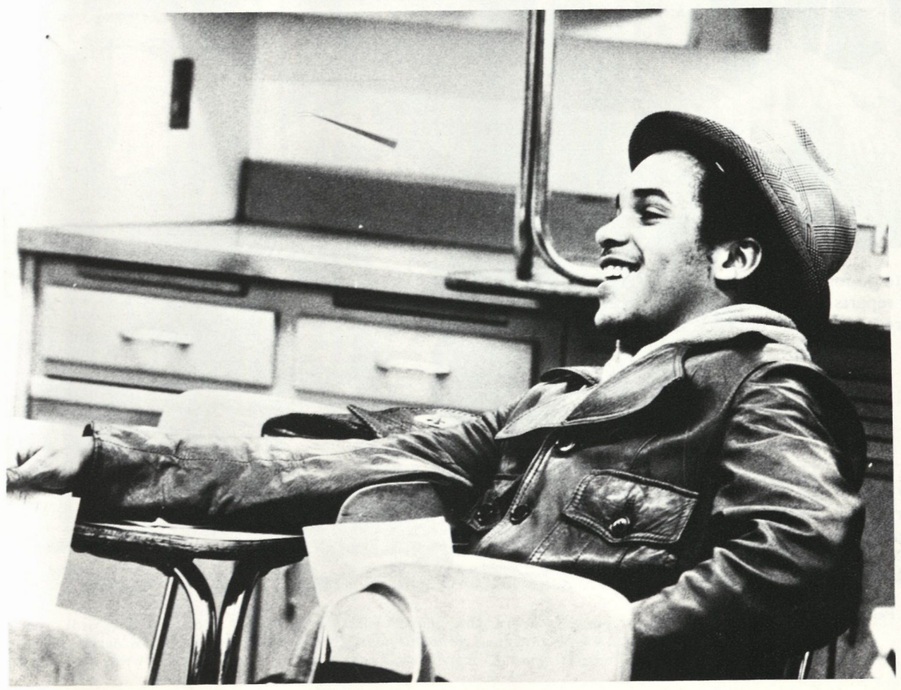

"COL III gives you freedom and at the same time you learn."

"It's an alright program. You meet a lot of good people, and you don't have all the hassles of traditional."

"COL III is different."

"COL III is very cool and real exciting. Everyday we do something different."

"The classrooms are smaller so the teachers can get to the students on a more individualized basis."

BEFORE: Even before the group left Cleveland they attended classes where they learned to read maps, pack backpacks, and use various pieces of equipment. They also studied the areas they would travel in—the Black Forest, the White Mountains, and Acadia National Park. Each student got in shape by jogging around Heights High's track. DURING: A typical day in the White Mountains began early in the morning. The group slept in huts owned by the Appalachian Mountain Club. At 6:00 a.m. they got up for breakfast, and hit the trail shortly afterwards. They arrived at the next hut in the late afternoon. Sometimes there were classes, but there was often time to explore the area or rest.

Upon returning, each student had to do forty field reports on the plants and animals they had seen. They also did reports on weather and on the ocean environment in Acadia. Each student received a full science credit.

Independent Study

Joshua Silver, a sophomore, did an independent study on sculpture. His advisor was Mr. Jerdon.

Independent study is an opportunity for students to study subjects not offered in the curriculum for credit. They must describe what goals they plan to accomplish in their studies and provide their own faculty advisor. This program is under the direction of Mrs. Rita Shtull.

Chris Waychoff and John Donkin filmed a science fiction movie this year as an independent study project. The movie dealt with a future earth civilization which was being taken over by outsiders. Most of the plot was concerned with the feelings of the people during this period and their struggle to escape. John and Chris' advisor was Walter Maki, and they both earned half a credit for their work.

Holocaust

"In Auschwitz, not only man died, but also the idea of man. To live in a world where there is nothing anymore, where the executioner acts as god, as judge—many wanted no part of it. It was its own heart the world incinerated at Auschwitz."

Elie Wiesel

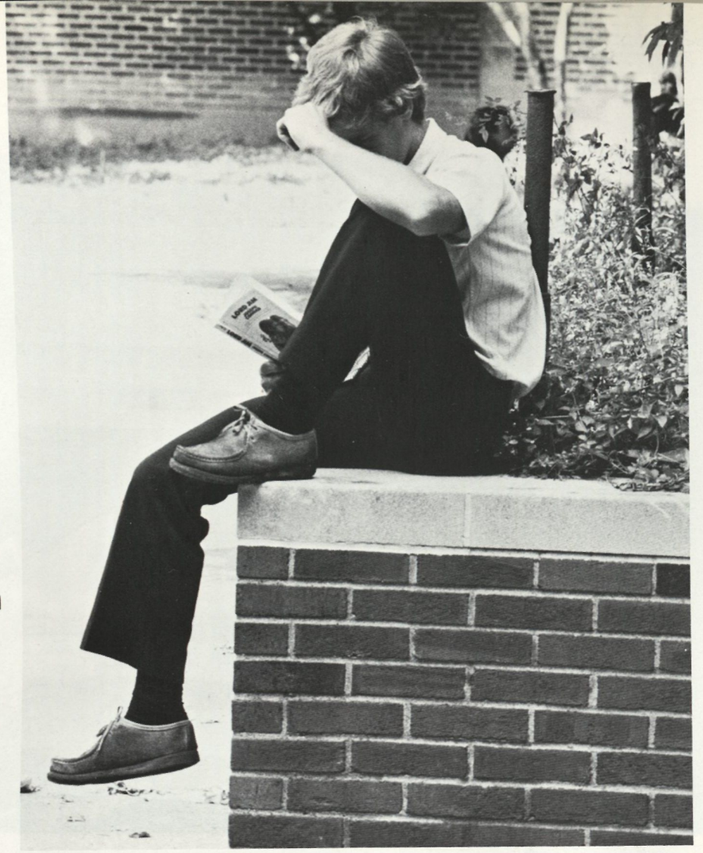

"We feel grief and sadness that the Holocaust has happened, but above all we feel in the back of our minds, that we are very lucky that we didn't have to go through the hell that Elie Wiesel endured. We must never forget nor can we let a Holocaust happen again."

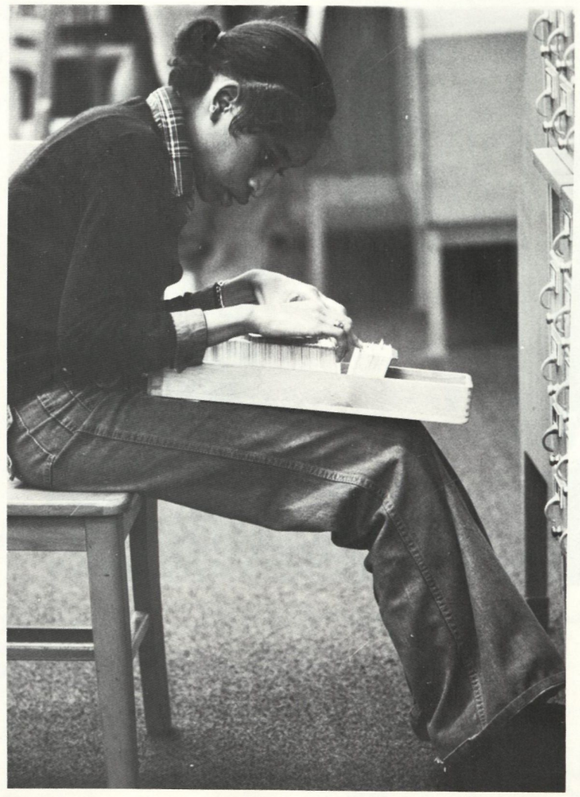

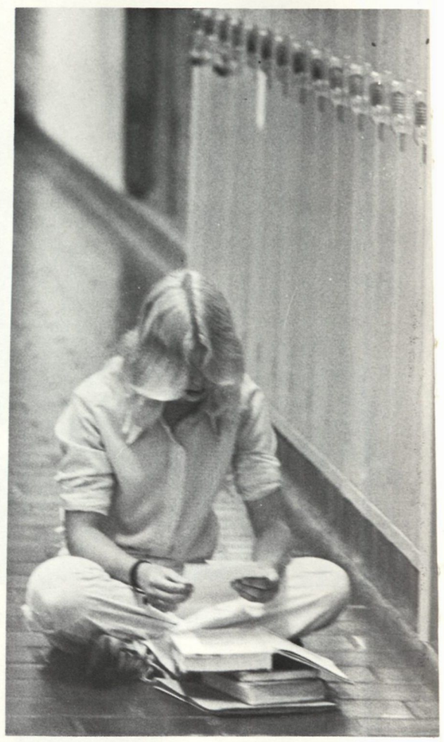

Toby Goldoftas showed slides of the Auschwitz concentration camp to the Holocaust class.

Unit C officers; Lisa Jacobs (Pres.) Joslin Kaiser (Treas.) Becca Shaw (Sec.) Suzanne McKay (V.P.)

"the class of '79"

The Sadie Hawkins Hayride, held on September 29, kicked off the year's events for Unit C. October 21 brought the school's Homecoming celebrations and the class float took first prize. Later in October was the dance cosponsered with WGCL. Santa Claus came to Heights in December; several hundred students had their pictures taken while they posed on his lap. This, as well as the candy sale, helped to promote the holiday season. On January 12 a toboganning social was held at Winter Funland, and still the seniors had much ahead of them. Class T-shirts with the names of all the graduates were sold. Other events were a skate-a-thon, Senior Crazy Day, Prom, and a trip to Cedar Point. Unit C Class Council kept busy, and the officers worked hard to make the last class of the seventies a class to remember.

When I was a little kid,
People in high school used to seem so old,
So sure of themselves.
Now, I don't know what to think.
I don't feel old—I hardly feel secure,
but look what is ahead of me.

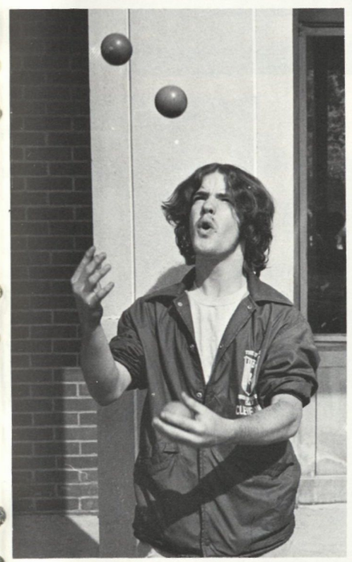

Pretty soon I have to create a life for myself.
Should I go to college, or get a job?
Perhaps I'll just wander . . .
Even that would be a decision,
And I have to decide on something—don't I?

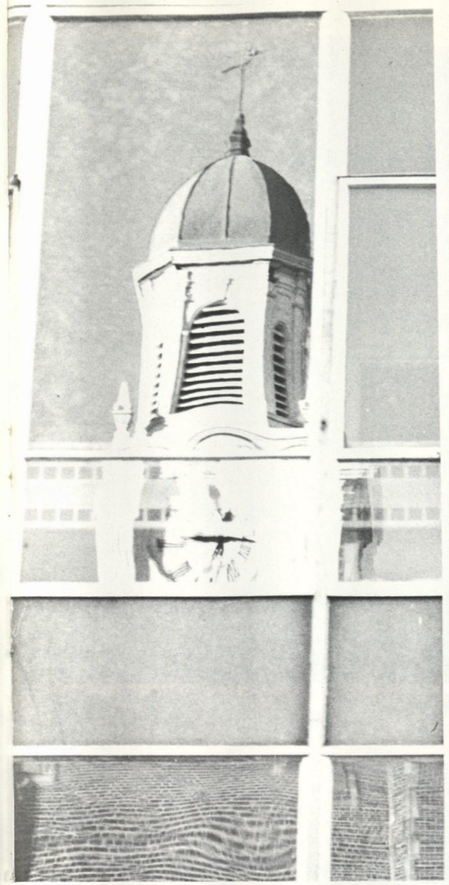

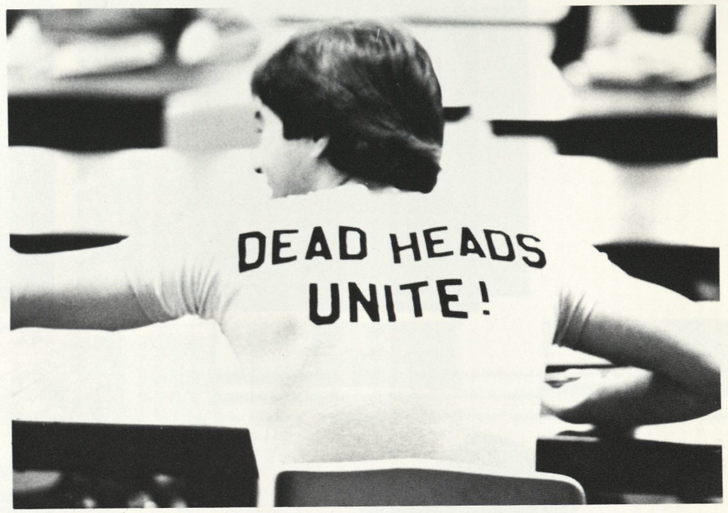

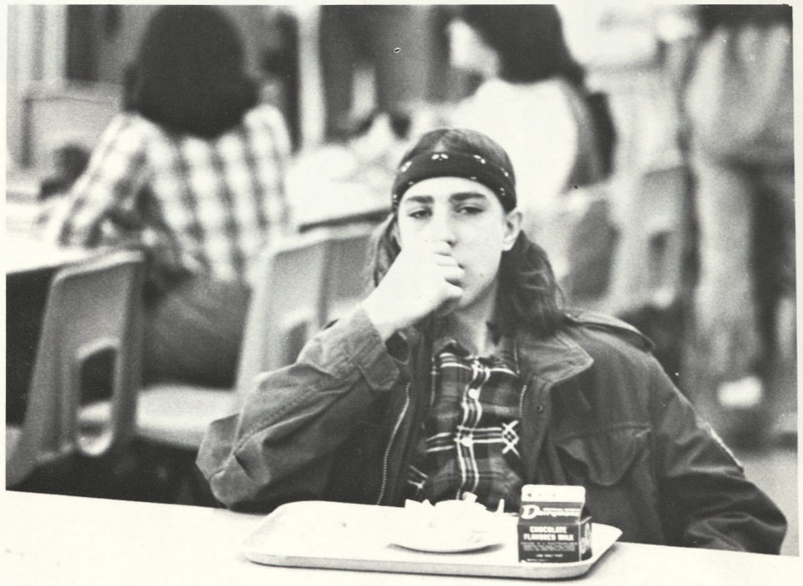

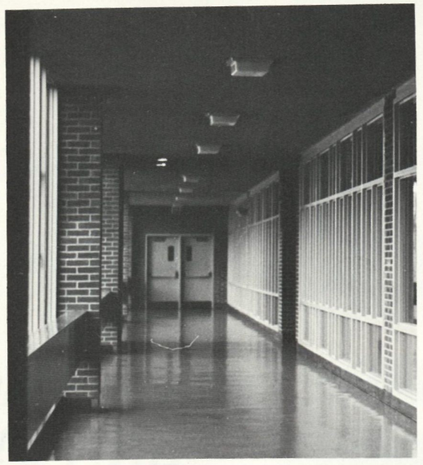

Of course,
There's always the five year plan . . . . .

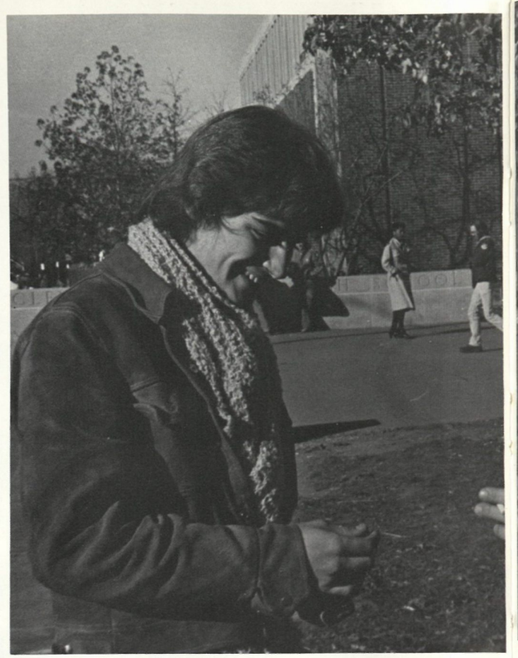

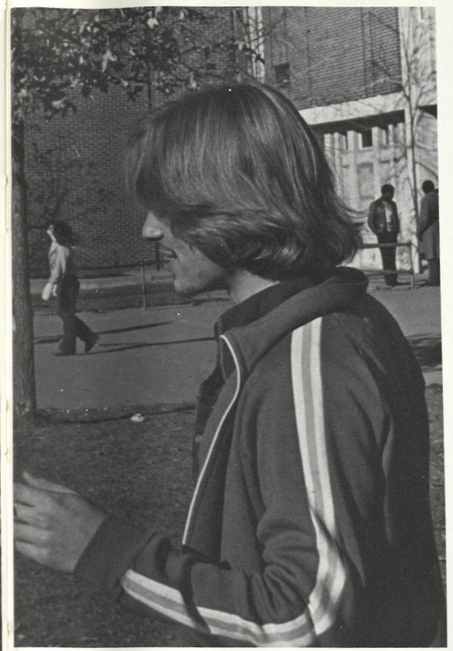

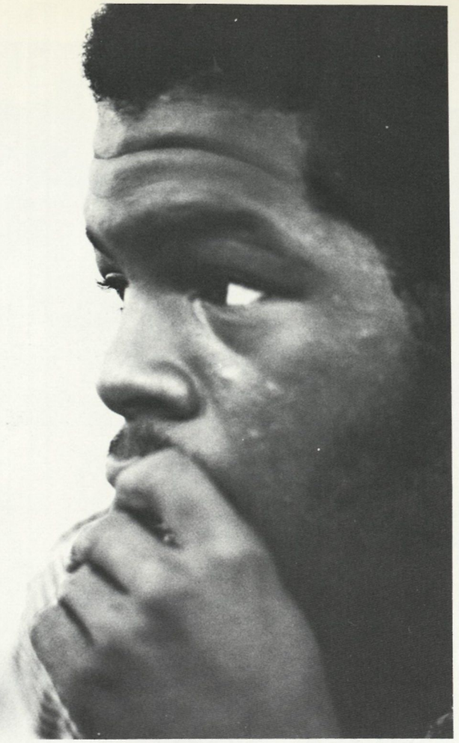

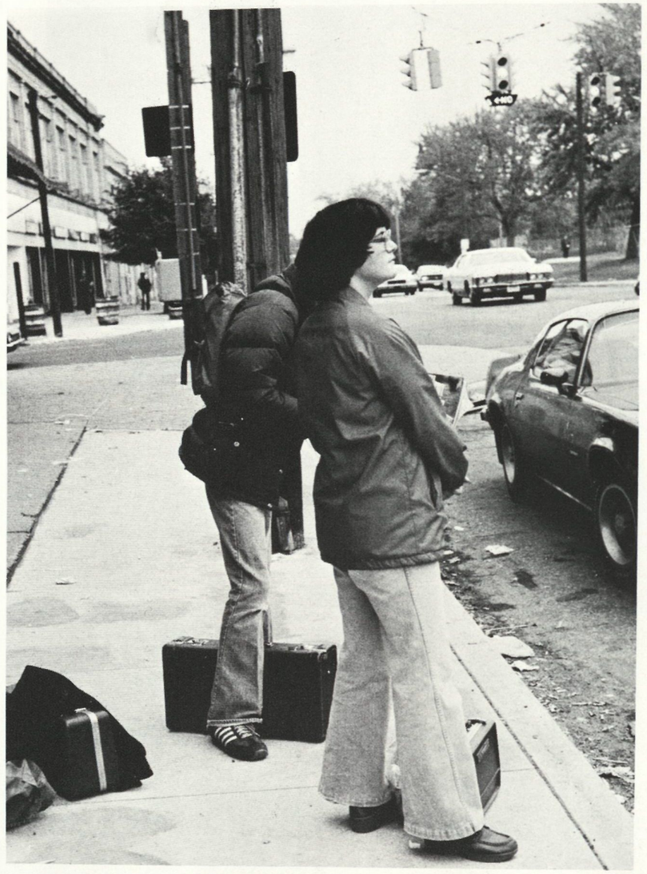

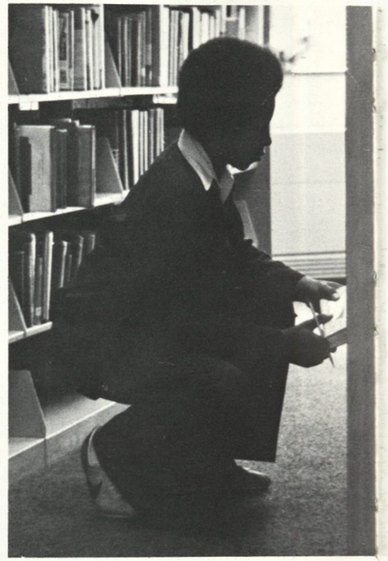

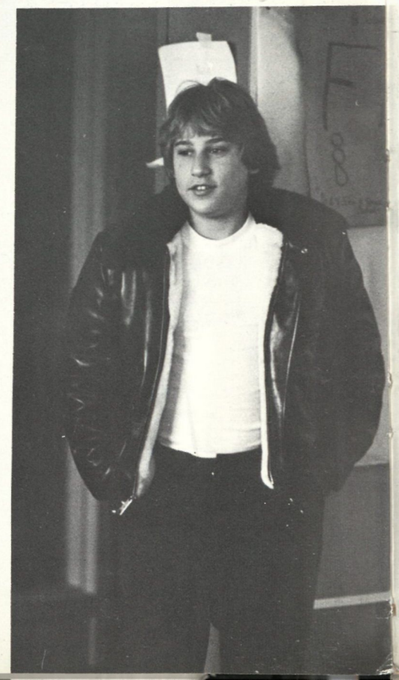

NO FUTURE FOR ME WITHOUT Y
